This Regal Rectangular WEB Table by Webcoat consists of a WEB frame made out of 2-3/8-inch steel with the tabletop and seating constructed from nine-gauge metal expanded for protecting against warping due to continual use. This eight-foot-long table has two three-foot seats and one eight-foot seat on another side. The two-seat side offers an added element of distance due to the separation, which for some can be more comfortable especially on warm days. All table and seat corners are rounded for added safety against accident-prone persons or active children. Both the powder-coated frame and textured polyethylene tabletop and seats can be colored to your preference to match your venue. They provide a tough and durable finish that will keep the table looking like new even after habitual use. The table is available with in-ground mounting.
