If you want an innovative and unique playground, the Rising Ozark is a good place to begin. Not only does this have a unique design and layout, but it also offers spaces that many other playgrounds do not. For instance, there is a right veering chute slide, an inclined rockwall, a triple rail slide, a disk climber, a spiral slide, and more. Beneath this unusually shaped playground is a "café and market" play station, bench, and plenty of room to gather with friends. Ideal for kids aged 2-12, it can hold from 23-27 kids thanks to the use zone of 37'x38'. It can be customized in the available recycled plastic colors to make it even more dynamic, but even if you choose the low key colors it will easily attract lots of kids. It has an ADA transfer station to ensure it is always safe and inclusive, and it features many components with 15-year warranties, as well as the recycled posts with lifetime warranties.
