Kids ages 2-12 don't often have a lot in common, but when they see the Camp Bighorn recycled playground, they will all make a rush to explore its impressively long list of amenities and features. With a triple rail slide, crawl tunnel, challenging loop climber, curved slide, bedrock climber, and horizontal ladder, it offers many physical challenges and loads of fun. It also has a gabled roof over one of the raised platforms and offers up an ADA transfer station to ensure accessibility for all kids on the playground. There are other features like the driving panel, and with customizable colors, this can become whatever sort of play space you require. It can hold from 25-29 kids in the recommended age ranges, and is use zone 38'x30'. With 15-year warranties on many of the materials and features, and lifetime warranties on the durable recycled posts, this is a playground that will inspire generations of kids and let them enjoy hours of physical fitness.
