Not only is Jane's Jungle a very comprehensive playground with loads of features and play spaces, but is a themed one as well. Kids will be instantly transported to a tropical location when they see the palm toppers on the recycled posts. The hex roof on the raised platform provides a "bungalow" for kids to enjoy, and the different panels also help to encourage the sense of creative fun. This playground features many play spaces that include two veer slides, a disk climber, chain link climber, pipe ladder, various play panels, and more. There is a half moon climber for older kids, and this playground has been developed with kids from 2-12 in mind. The use zone is 36'x45' and it can accommodate from 44 to 48 children in the set age range. Made from time-tested materials, a lot of the parts have a 15-year warranty, while the posts come with lifetime warranties.
