The Melody is an outdoor percussion instrument which is both affordable and accessible to children of all ages and all levels of physical and musical ability. It features nine melodic keys carefully tuned to the C Major Key. The notes are housed in a vibrant lime green frame with an interesting shape, making the Melody attractive to both the ear and the eye. It is played with a pair of plastic mallets which are fixed to the bottom of the instrument by coated steel cables to prevent them from getting lost. It is supported by a reinforced square post made from recycled plastic materials, which can be adjusted to various heights in accordance with your specifications. This is a fun way to introduce children to the positive influence of music from an early age. The Melody is designed to be compact, decorative, and easy to install; a perfect addition to any outdoor space.
