The Free Standing Finger Maze Panel features a large round insert with a detailed maze that children can complete with their finger. The maze has an incredibly complex and beautiful design which resembles a mandala or a flower. The clever pathway of the maze winds all throughout the shape, passing through each 'petal' of the flower, with plenty of deceptive dead ends along the way. The whole shape is indented into the circle, so children can trace the whole path with a finger, and not worry about losing their place. The maze is fairly challenging at first, but with some practice even young kids will be able to finish it quickly. Even when the maze is not in use, this panel makes a great decoration to any playground area. The panel is double-sided, which means the pattern is visible from either side, and two kids can attempt to solve it at once. This panel can come in our pre-made color schemes, primary and neutral, and are available to be shipped within 1 - 2 weeks. If a personal custom color is your preference, the shipping times could reach 10 - 14 weeks.
