The Hickory playset is a fortress of fun. From its 78-inch upper deck, children can get a spectacular view of the surrounding playground while enjoying the shade of the decorative rooftop. There are a large number of climbing options for kids to use as they move around the structure, including a Rope Ladder, Loop Ladder, and Climbing Panels. There is even a separate climbing wall where children can climb vertically while hanging onto a rope for support. The Hickory playset is available with your choice of wood or metal building materials, as well as plenty of color options.
