It's always high tide for wave riding with this 5-foot Double Wave Free Standing Slide. This slide is an awesome addition to any playground that caters to a wide variety of children. The double wave design has two slides for children to slide down in pairs, cutting down wait times as well as playground disagreements that may breed from impatience. To help maintain order within your playground, the stairs are equipped with wider steps for children to wait on. An often under praised benefit of this particular model is the rotationally molded plastic that it is formed from. Being UV stabilized, it is designed to handle harsh daily sunlight. The strong galvanized steel posts give owners the peace of mind. This structure is powder coated in any of our powder coat paints colors and the slide itself comes in any of our rotationally plastic color to allow you to tailor it to your playground or park.
