The Bones Design Regal Style Trash Receptacle by Webcoat is a classically designed waste bin frame that would fit well in a multitude of outdoor locations, from dog parks and zoo grounds to apartment courtyards and veterinarian entrances. An animal-friendly location that caters to pet owners is further reinforced by the pleasant decorations displayed on the exterior of the receptacle in the form of two tilted bone cutouts in the metal. This 32-gallon capacity frame (liner and lid not included) is coated in a textured polyethylene that is available in several different color choices. Just discuss with a AAA State of Play salesperson what you're interested in while purchasing to learn of what's currently selectable and whether there are any additional lead times involved. By default, the Bones Design Regal Style Trash Receptacle is a portable receptacle. Surface or in-ground mounting hardware sold separately.
