The Monterey Recycled Play Structure is ideal for small schools, churches, parks, or any organization that may not have much room for a large, encompassing playground. Just because this structure is compact does not mean it sacrifices space for activities. This condensed unit fits everything a fun playground needs. Young, energetic kids will love scaling up climbing staples such as the rope and rock wall climbers. Advanced athletes will love scaling up the noodle-like arms of the Vortex Climber. No playground is complete without a slide, and this unit features an exciting spiraling slide. It even has room for the arts! A Chime Panel next to the beginning steps offers a symphonic escape for the musician in your organization. Brilliantly designed, the structure is environmentally friendly and encompasses recycled materials in its construction. Add the Monterey Recycled Play Structure to your venue and entertain children while helping protect the environment.
