Create a royal playground with the Kings Carousel Merry-Go-Round! As a twist on a classic playground staple, this playground carousel features a central floating inner disc: a new kind of space for kids bored with twirling around on typical merry-go-rounds. The tantalizing design of this playground carousel will invite onlookers from all over the playground, encouraging socialization and cooperation. In addition to being fun, spinning is also a great exercise! Children will fortify their leg and arm muscles as they push the structure to get it moving. While on the platform of this playground carousel, kids will work on their strength and balance to stay atop the unit. Additionally, a child's spatial awareness will grow as they experiment with rotating faster and have to process the speed and changes in direction. Select from a wide array of color options to paint the powder coated handle posts to hues of your preference. Contact a AAA State of Play representative for more information.
