Competitive and rigorous volleyball play can involve a lot of dives, jumps, and falls on the court. Not only should players pad their knees, but padding on stands, posts and walls improves the overall safety for volleyball players and officials. The Volleyball Referee Platform Stand Pad is designed to perfectly fit the Volleyball Referee Platform Stand and covers the legs, braces, and platform edge. It is one-inch thick cross-linked polyethylene closed-cell foam covered with 14-ounce nylon reinforced vinyl that reduces the risk of injury while adding an attractive touch to the volleyball court. This padding is secured by velcro, which allows for quick and easy setup and breakdown. This high-quality material is available in 16 different colors to guarantee that it complements the theme of any institution. The stand is not included.
