Protect athletes from the impact of the field goal post with Gared's Football Goalpost Pad. Football is an immersive sport that requires a great deal of concentration, both physically and mentally. Tension and emotions reach their peak in the red zone when players need to score or make a defensive stand. Caught up in the pace of the game, players may disregard the field goal post and try to make a crucial play despite the obstacle in front of them. Field goal posts for recreational use typically feature 4-½-inch round posts while high school and college venues use a 6-inch round post for competitive play. We offer pads that fit both post sizes to keep players safe from easily avoidable injuries. Both pads are 6-feet in height and feature 4-inches of high-density urethane foam to protect players from impact during play. A UV-resistant vinyl coat covers the pad to minimize fading, increasing its durability and keeping it in pristine condition. It is also mildew resistant. Select from a wide range of hues to match your school colors.
