The Three Panel Standard Rock Wall Climber serves as a playful way to challenge kids' strength and endurance, as well as encourage social and physical play alongside other children. They can engage in imaginative play, like pretending they are scaling a canyon. Or they can race each other to the top. Climbing improves spatial and directional awareness, and boosts physical skills like hand and foot coordination, agility and balance. Help kids learn how to problem solve at an early age by introducing this piece of equipment to any school, park, church or other outdoor area. The Three Panel Standard Rock Wall Climber can be installed as a stand alone feature or attached to other structures. This rock climber is accessible from both sides of the panels and can accommodate anywhere between 15 to 18 children at once. Add the Three Panel Standard Rock Wall Climber to your outdoor site to foster beneficial physical activity for childhood wellness.
