The Track Ride is widely popular, as playground events that include motion generally gain the most attention from children. A child simply grabs the handle with both hands and glides from one side to the other. This horizontal climber is 10 feet long and designed for older children. The Track Slider is a freestanding ride that is often attached directly to playground structures. This freestanding unit increases your playground activity without the costs of a structure. The Track Slider is supported by 3.5" posts and available in several colors.
