- Benches can be placed together to form a longer bench

This Rolled Style Park Bench by Webcoat is a must-have addition to any schoolyard or park that needs additional outdoor seating. Its slightly inclined back makes for a comforting spot to rest and its small footprint opens up placement possibilities. It can also be set against walls or gates to keep it out of the way and prevent it from taking up too much space. This bench is made from nine-gauge expanded metal that is then laid out in a series of diamond shapes. This makes the bench solid and sturdy while also allowing air to flow through. The frame and the bench are coated in any of Webcoat's color options that protect the bench from rusting and chipping over the years to come. Choose between 6 and 8-foot lengths to best fit your seating needs. You also choose your mounting preference. Keep it mobile with the portable mount or securely affix it in place with an in-ground or surface mount.
