Touch the stars on the USS Star Gazer Play System. No matter what sci-fi or anime a child is into, they can find something to fascinate them on this structure. The barriers scattered around the decks set a strongly technological tone with their molded pieces that could have come off of an X-Wing or even the USS Enterprise itself. Children will be awestruck by the satellites and spaceships sprinkled above their heads. The most impressive piece is the Robot Head Roof with multiple faces staring down at the occupants of its home. The Tunnel Bridge and Bones Bridge are portals to the next world on the two of the three separate sections of the ship. Even the slides bring the theme to life with the Moon Landing Slide and the Spiral Slide with a distinctly mechanically themed entrance.
